4 Revision

My father's a geologist and he's coming home from the Antarctic tomorrow. We're decorating the house at the moment because we're having a party with all our family tomorrow evening. My mum's making special food. I can smell it! It's great! We're having all Dad's favourite things because when he works in the Antarctic they always eat the same food from packets and they never have fruit or vegetables. My sister's making a chocolate cake in the kitchen and I'm helping her later. We're writing Welcome Home on it.
